Instead of Ten-Year Holiday, Britain Wants Replacement Program to Be Elastic

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 14.—The real work of the armament negotiations was transferred today from the open conference to the more secluded precincts of the committee plan.

After a debate which developed widely-separated views on the advisability of giving publicity to the negotiations, the Big Five, comprising the chief delegates of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, settled on the committee plan as the only acceptable solution.

To one committee, whose membership will be identical with that of the full conference itself, was assigned the task of working out a solution for the Far Eastern questions. Another, composed of all the delegates of the five great powers, was created to take over the negotiations on the main topic of armament limitation. Since only the delegates of the five powers are qualified to act on armament limitation in the conference, the result in each case will be to resolve the delegates into a "committee of the whole." Although no official would make a prediction prior to the assembling of the new committees, the presumption everywhere tonight was that the meetings would be held behind closed doors and that the public would get a glimpse of the proceedings only when, in their capacity as committeemen, the delegates have an important decision to report to the conference as a whole.

Seen as Most Direct Method

The committee plan was said to have been agreed to as the most direct method of attack on the problems before the conference, since it would permit greater liberty of confidential expression between the executives of the various governments and would obviate much of the procedure that would be necessary should the sessions continue entirely in the open. Another argument used by those who favored the proposal was that it would facilitate such modifications of program as might become necessary through changes in the personnel of the various delegations and in the diplomatic situation generally confronting the conference.

One result of the decision may be to make tomorrow's open session of the conference the last of those which precede the period of actual decision of the questions on which the negotiations hinge. The most optimistic officials do not expect the committees to be able to report without long study and debate. It is pointed out that there is no injunction against an open committee meeting, but the likelihood of such a development is generally considered to be remote at the present state of the negotiations.

Sub-Committees May Be Named

An additional result, at least at the beginning, will be to permit the whole body of delegates to deal with subjects before the conference instead of leaving the decisions to the "Big Five" or the "Big Nine." Creation of sub-committees is provided for in the plan, however, should that step be found advisable.

The decision to create the armament "committee of the whole" was reached at a meeting of the heads of the delegations of the five powers, and was adopted for the handling of Far Eastern questions also at a later meeting of the heads of the delegations. It was agreed that at tomorrow's open session, an opportunity would be given for any nation to express its views on the American plan for limitation of naval armaments.

Details of what transpired at today's meetings were kept in closest confidence, but it was indicated that Secretary Hughes, for the American delegation, had proposed open sessions in principle, with frequent executive sessions whose results should be made public. Some of the other govern-

BRITAIN DIFFERS WITH U. S. PLAN IN SEVERAL DETAILS

Washington, Nov. 14.—Great Britain's acceptance "in principle" of the American proposals of limitations for naval armaments contemplates an alteration of the plan in several important details.

The British acceptance will be presented at tomorrow's plenary session of the conference by Arthur J. Balfour, head of the mission, who has plenipotentiary powers. Japanese acceptance "in principle," although it has been forecast by the statements of Baron Admiral Kato, may be delayed as the Japanese mission is obligated to confer with Tokyo.

Mr. Balfour may not outline the details of the reservations Great Britain wishes to make, but they are substantially described this way:

Would Outlaw the Submarine

Great Britain would like to see the submarine outlawed from naval warfare; failing this, she wants to see her tonnage and equipment distinctly limited. She feels that the submarine fleets allowed by the American program are too great; she has never had so large a submarine fleet as the proposals would allow her.

The United States, Great Britain feels, would have her at a disadvantage in airplane-carrying ships, under the terms of the American proposals, because while Great Britain has an equipment of these craft, the United States would have to build anew the number allotted. They would be of later design and of superior improvement, while the British ships would be obsolete.

Great Britain wants the replacement program spread over a period of years, because, British naval experts argue, the program could be carried on with a very small equipment and building planned on a small scale, probably a ship at a time. If a flat ten-year holiday were to be declared, they say, the facilities for building a wholesale replacement at the end of ten years would have to be kept in organization and although great fleets of warships might be consigned to the junk pile, the facilities for reproducing them still would exist.

Therefore, they will propose that, for instance, a one-ship production equipment be left to each nation, to be in with a replacement program extending over a period of years. It seeks for better understanding among nations, not merely for its own advantage but from a great desire to serve. The mighty power that has come, the great advantage that is ours, will be unworthily held unless it be used for the cause of humanity.

Dr. VanDyke's Attitude

New York, Nov. 14.—Speaking before a convention of Methodist ministers and laymen gathered to discuss the responsibility of the church in the world's affairs, Dr. Henry VanDyke, former United States minister to Holland, today urged the entire nation to "retreat behind President Harding to the limit" in his efforts to bring about a world limitation of armaments.

"The ideas gained through the war under former President Wilson," said Dr. VanDyke, "are being preserved and perpetuated and made ready for practice by President Harding and Secretary Hughes. Let no one criticize the Harding policy because it does not go far enough."

"The world is not yet ready for absolute disarmament. So long as wild beasts and men of unscrupulous ambition exist, we will need weapons of self-defense."

The audience applauded when Dr. VanDyke, in discussing the proposal for a "day of prayer" for the world, declared that he would display when he announced he would forego his customary wines while in the United States.

The convention—that of the New York Episcopal area—which includes churches in Long Island, Northern New Jersey, Western Connecticut and New York state, as far north as Albany, was presided over by Bishop Luther B. Wilson.

AL WOODS ACCUSED OF GIVING 'IMMORAL AND IMPURE' SHOW

New York, Nov. 14.—Chief Magistrate William McDougall today entered a formal complaint against Al. H. Woods, theatrical producer, alleging violation of the penal code in presenting an "immoral and impure" show.

Judge McDougall's finding was the culmination of an investigation of "The Demi-Vierge," a comedy which opened a few weeks ago on Broadway. Attorneys for Woods told the court that the lines of the play had been edited and some of the dialogue objected to deleted.

VICE PRESIDENT PREDICTS SUCCESS OF CONFERENCE

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—The triumph of America that moves it to call the conference to limit armament and the absolute need for economy on the part of the nations will work for the success of the Washington conference, Vice President Calvin Coolidge tonight told the members of the Philadelphia forum.

"The great purpose of the present conference is not to establish a force which no nation will dare to disobey," Mr. Coolidge declared, "but to establish an understanding in which all nations will desire to concur. There lies the practical prospect of immediate benefit and the great expectation of world salvation. The only price exacted in a trifling diminution of theoretical national security. But even the lessened power of defense will be balanced by the lessened power of attack."

The aims of the conference are not new, Mr. Coolidge pointed out, as the idea antedates modern civilization. "But they all demonstrated that civilization hates war and has long cherished aspirations for perpetual peace," he went on. "They have for the most part turned upon political and military alliances which under-look by combination to increase the military power rather than by agreement and independence to decrease it."

Some Understanding Essential

The utility of the past arrangements will lay the foundation for the success of the present conference, Mr. Coolidge asserted, for they have demonstrated the absolute necessity for some understanding regarding the causes of war.

Mr. Coolidge said he felt certain the conference would achieve the high purposes for which it was created.

"America," the vice president declared, "is proposing this conference with the most unselfish of motives. We have emerged from the great war less impaired than any other nation. We have suffered as yet very little from any internal economic reaction. We can meet the test of competitive armament with less strain than would be felt elsewhere. There is small doubt that we might prosper on the distress of others."

"America has always been an apostle of peace and well-being. It proposes to hold to that course now. It seeks for better understanding among nations, not merely for its own advantage but from a great desire to serve. The mighty power that has come, the great advantage that is ours, will be unworthily held unless it be used for the cause of humanity."

"There will be no diminution of national power, no limitation of independence, imposed upon our country. The nations will emerge from the conference clothed with sovereignty unimpaired and with freedom undiminished, but if the hope of our people is realized they will emerge with a new determination not to rely for their security upon the individual power of force, but to rely upon the universal power of righteousness."

HOPE OF AN EARLY IRISH SETTLEMENT IS NOW GIVEN UP

Makes Improbable Lloyd George Visiting America at This Time; Discussions Likely to Extend Over Period of Months

(By The Associated Press.)

London, Nov. 14.—The negotiations among British, Sinn Fein and Ulster officials regarding the future of Ireland have now entered a stage in which the negotiators are talking of interminable conferences extending over months instead of weeks.

The chief interest this possibility has at the moment is that it promises to make impossible an early visit of Premier Lloyd George to Washington, as he has been hoping.

This development is assuming great importance in English public and official spheres because the Washington conference has suddenly attained proportions in British eyes of an event of tremendous and absorbing significance.

Counter proposals for an Irish settlement to those made by the Ulster cabinet last week were forwarded to the Ulsterists this evening by the British representatives, informing them that their alternative proposal was not acceptable.

It now seems that the premier's diplomacy must be directed to bringing Ulster into a three-cornered argument. In the meantime, the Sinn Fein will sit on the sidelines and await developments.

Ulster's watchword is "no surrender," but some of the newspapers find comfort in the thought that this is the first stage of all in the bargaining. The crux of the difficulty rests in the Sinn Fein's claim that Ireland must be a governmental unit, as opposed to Ulster's claim that if Ireland is to have a dominion status, Ulster must be under independent rule.

UNION BROKEN, SAYS N. Y. MILK OFFICIAL

Strikers Flocking Back to Apply for Their Old Jobs, Nathans Declares

New York, Nov. 14.—The assertion that the Milk Wagon Drivers' union had been broken and that its striking members were flocking back to apply for their old jobs on "open shop" terms, was made tonight by I. Elkin Nathans, secretary of the New York Milk Producers' board.

This was denied by union officials, who insisted only a few men had deserted union ranks.

The returning workers, Mr. Nathans said, were being regarded as new applicants, those having the best service records receiving the preference. He asserted several of the distributing companies had resumed house-to-house deliveries on a limited scale and expected to broaden this service quickly to normal. More than 80 per cent of the normal milk supply is being distributed, he said.

Supreme Court Justice Kappeler in Brooklyn today continued until Wednesday an application of 16 milk distributing companies to make permanent a temporary injunction restraining strikers from interfering with milk distribution. The continuance was granted at the request of union counsel.

EJECTED GUEST ACCUSED OF STABBING HOST TO DEATH

Rochester, Nov. 14.—Stephen Bostick, 50 years old, died in a hospital here this afternoon from a knife wound inflicted on his chest by William Rodersick, 22 years old, when Bostick ejected him from the former's house at Cuylerville last night while a party in honor of Bostick's silver wedding anniversary was in progress. George Zeolaski, 38 years old, one of the guests at the party, is in the hospital with a knife wound piercing his lung from the back. Slight chances are held out for his recovery.

Rodersick is under arrest at the county jail at Genesee, accused of stabbing both men. Five others also are under arrest at the jail, charged with being accomplices of Rodersick in the stabbing of Zeolaski.

BUD FISHER HELD TO POSSESS RIGHTS TO 'MUTT AND JEFF'

Washington, Nov. 14.—Proprietary rights to "Mutt and Jeff" as characters is possessed by Harry C. (Bud) Fisher and decisions to that effect by the New York state courts are final, the supreme court today refusing to consider an appeal which the Star company, publishers of the Hearst newspapers, sought to bring.

The court awarded Fisher exclusive right to reproduce the two characters, a formal order that he be protected from unfair competition of others reproducing them, and rejected the contention of the Star company that Fisher could only copyright particular pictures and words descriptive of their exploits in incidents drawn by him and that the two characters were public property.

SHIP'S FIRE SPREADS

New York, Nov. 14.—The steamship San Francisco, reported on fire yesterday about 1,000 miles southeast from New York, is heading toward Bermuda, radio messages from the ship said today. The fire was reported to be spreading. It broke out in the cross bunkers and then crept to No. 2 hold. The steamer Ramon D'Arrascaza was reported to standing by.

TEN LIVES LOST IN N. Y. TENEMENT FIRE

New York, Nov. 14.—Ten lives were lost and more than a score of people injured in a fire of unknown origin which partially destroyed a five-story tenement house on West 17th street before dawn today. The building was occupied by 15 families, mostly Armenians and Greeks. Several of the dead, two of whom were children, have been only partially identified. Nine were burned and the tenth died in a fall from a ledge where he had clung until exhausted.

ST. LAWRENCE SHIP CANAL PLAN URGED

Governor Allen of Kansas Takes Exception to Governor Miller's Statements on Question

New York, Nov. 14.—Argument in favor of the proposed St. Lawrence ship canal and power project was advanced at a meeting of American engineering societies today by Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas. Former Governor W. L. Harding of Idaho, Dr. R. S. Macdowell of Georgetown university and H. L. Harriman of Boston, Governor Allen took exception to a statement made by Governor Miller of New York at an address against the project in Buffalo, declaring the New York governor had been misinformed regarding details and costs.

Contrary to Governor Miller, he said the project was practicable and scientifically possible, that it would be of sufficient canal depth to float a great amount of commerce, and that it would be of infinite benefit to mid-western people in the way of reducing prices of all imported articles, and of cost of export from the middle west.

It should be obvious, he added, that it would be better for the middle west to load its grain on board an ocean steamer at Chicago and other lake points and send it straight to Liverpool through the proposed St. Lawrence channel than to send it through the barge canal at Buffalo, reload at New York and suffer the expense and delay of going an additional 450 miles.

Mr. Harriman said that the project would be of great benefit to New England and New York because of its aid to domestic commerce and the large and reliable supply of hydro-electric power it would develop. The erection of a large dam near Cornwall and a low dam near Ogdensburg, he said, would give a channel for navigation the full width of the river for 113 miles from Lake Ontario to the head of Lake St. Francis and immediately develop 1,464,000 continuous horse power, which amount later probably would be increased to 1,700,000.

FIVE JURORS CHOSEN FOR ARBUCKLE CASE

Actor's Counsel Says He Will Establish Rappe Girl Died of Organic Affection

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—Roscoe C. (Patty) Arbuckle appeared today in the role of defendant in manslaughter proceedings arising from the death of Virginia Rappe, a figure in the motion picture world. Arbuckle's audience was one of the smallest that ever watched him.

Arbuckle's wife was in court but did not sit beside him at the counsel table.

Gavin McNab, chief counsel for Arbuckle, stated that the defense would make no effort to discuss the character of the dead girl.

At adjournment, five jurors, one a woman, had been accepted tentatively.

McNab told the court that he would establish that the Rappe girl died of organic and chronic affection. "That might at any time have produced death," he said.

There was a clash when McNab indirectly accused Matthew Brady, district attorney, of threatening witnesses with imprisonment if they did not make certain statements.

"If Mr. McNab can prove that, I will hand in my resignation to the mayor," Brady declared.

McNab said he had seven witnesses who would prove that "witnesses were taken to city prison and intimidated by the district attorney's office."

BIRTH CONTROL ADVOCATES FREED FOR LACK OF GUILT

New York, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Margaret Sanger and Miss Mary Winslow were discharged today by City Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan when police officials failed to produce evidence in court to substantiate charges upon which they were arrested last night when they resisted efforts of the police to break up a birth control meeting.

HARDING DEDICATES VICTORY MEMORIAL

Eulogizes America's First President and Expresses Hope for World Peace

Washington, Nov. 14.—Speaking today at the ceremonies attending the laying of the cornerstone for the new Victory memorial, President Harding dedicated the structure "as a gathering place for Americans; where American minds begin the fulfillment of one of the striking provisions of the last will of George Washington which set aside for a foremost of all institutions to disseminate learning, culture and a proper understanding of right principles in government."

The President's address was given largely to an analysis of the less well-known attributes of the first President, which, he said, made Washington "on his private and personal side, a very model of good citizenship."

"It is an interesting fact," Mr. Harding said, "worthy of our especial thought, that in the century and a half since Washington became the leader, the heart and soul of its struggle for independence and unity, this nation has so many times found occasions to record devotion to the precepts which he laid down for its guidance. So today after more than a century's delay, we are come to pay tribute to the President which encouraged and endowed the institution now established."

An institution which is to be like a monument to those who sacrificed in a noble cause, and a beacon to shed afar the light of useful knowledge and grateful understanding among men."

President Harding departed from his seat at the ceremony to the corner-stone depository the usual memorials of the foundation laying to express hope that the first President's revolutions of human fate this hour shall be opened by posterity, posterity shall have attained our aspirations for it."

General Pershing was applauded when in the course of a brief speech at the ceremonies he mentioned the armament conference.

"The supreme test of the judgment of men it about to be made," he said, "if the conference should fail, then we have but handed down to posterity a more bitter than through which we have passed, and leave our boasted civilization stranded. But—we shall not fail."

He concluded with the declaration that "widows and orphans cry for the adoption of the sentiments" expressed by President Harding and the "clear and frank declaration" of Secretary Hughes in opening the conference.

GARMENT WORKERS DESERT MANY SHOPS

Strike Leaders Report 100 Per Cent Walk-Out, But Manufacturers Say 40 Per Cent

New York, Nov. 14.—Leaders of the striking garment workers announced tonight a check-up of their forces indicated that 100 per cent of the workers answered the strike call in 3,000 shops this morning. The manufacturers who had claimed earlier in the day that 40 per cent of their employees had remained on the job, tonight set the figure at 40 per cent. Those who stayed at work, they asserted, were efficient, capable operatives who welcomed the piece work system as an opportunity to earn more money and produce more goods.

The strikers held meetings in various sections of the city during the day and perfected their organizations.

Louis Langer, a union officer, said tonight that unless the strike is settled favorably within a few days, it will become nationwide and spread to Chicago, Baltimore, Boston and other cities. A strike vote is now in progress in Philadelphia, he added.

ZYBYSKO DEFEATS RANCHER IN TWO STRAIGHT FALLS

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 14.—Stanislav Zybyzsko, heavyweight wrestling champion, defeated Jack Taylor of Wyoming in straight falls here tonight, he equaled one a 21 minutes and six seconds for the pole to pull the rancher's shoulders to the mat, the first time with a headlock. The second fall was won in ten minutes, ten seconds, with a reverse flying mare.

COCHRANE WINS AT BILLIARDS

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Walker Cochrane of San Francisco tonight defeated River Court champion of France, 400 to 221, in the first match of the world's 18.2 balling billiard championship tournament. The game lasted 11 innings.

Navies for Defense Only, Is Basis of Hughes Plan

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 14.—Limitation of the world's navies so that they will be adapted for defensive purposes, only is the fundamental motive which inspired the proposals submitted to the armament conference by Secretary Hughes. It was learned tonight from authoritative sources. The proposals were based, it was explained, on the proposition that naval ships should be restricted in gun and man power that they would not be used for offensive purposes.

PEACE BETWEEN U. S. AND BERLIN IS PROCLAIMED

President Harding Declares State of War Terminated in Fact on July 2, 1921

AUSTRIA COMES NEXT

Full Peace Status Will Not Return, However, Until Hungary Also Is Dealt With

Washington, Nov. 14.—Peace between the United States and Germany was formally proclaimed today by President Harding.

The President, in a proclamation signed at 3:32 p. m., declared the state of war between the United States and Germany, existing from April 6, 1917, to have terminated in fact July 2, 1921, when the joint peace resolution of congress was approved by the executive.

Issuance of the proclamation, which followed exchange of ratification of the treaty of Berlin, effected Armistice day in the German capital, was considered the first of a series of three steps which, when completed, will return the United States to a complete peace status.

The second step probably will be promulgation of a proclamation declaring the war with Austria to have ended and the third the issuance of a similar proclamation with respect to Hungary. The proclamation dealing with Austria is expected to be signed by the President and issued through the state department within a few days, as ratifications of the treaty between the United States and Austria were exchanged at Vienna late today. Ratifications between the United States and Hungary are expected to be exchanged soon after the proclamation is issued.

Repeal of War Laws

Until the third and final step is taken, the purposes of the formal proclamations will not be achieved in the opinion of officials. These purposes are stated to be to put an end without doubt to certain war laws unaffected by the congressional resolution of repeal approved last March. Notable among these war-time laws are sections of the espionage act, the Liberty bond act, and trading with the enemy act. Portions of the last-named statute are preserved, however, through the treaty.

Disposition of the cases of Eugene V. Debs and others convicted of violation of war laws likewise will await the third and final step. Attorney General Daugherty has prepared an opinion for the President suggesting a method of disposing of the Debs case and, it is understood, proposing definite treatment in the cases of others convicted of similar offenses. This opinion, however, has not been presented to the President and Mr. Daugherty has indicated that there may be last-minute changes before its submission.

Diplomatic Relations Restored

The proclamation issued today has no bearing on the resumption of diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany, as announced by officials asserting that the exchange of ratifications in itself restored such diplomatic relations. Just when Germany will resume her old diplomatic status in Washington is not known to officials here but it is expected that Baron Edmund Thiermann, former counselor of the German legation at Budapest, will arrive in Washington shortly to arrange for a permanent installation of a German embassy.

Press dispatches from Germany have indicated that the Ebert government was having difficulty in finding a suitable appointee to the Washington ambassadorship in view of the expense through difference in exchange rates. It has been suggested that Germany might, for a time, be content with a charge d'affaires, a suggestion that has not been officially commented upon by the American state department.

President Harding for some time has had under consideration the names of several possibilities as ambassador to Berlin and it is understood that Representative Alanson B. Houghton of New York is first in the President's mind in that connection.

GALLI-CURCI STABBED

New York, Nov. 14.—The Metropolitan opera season opened tonight for the first time in 15 years without Causa. In the Lieutenants' stand, Manager Giulio Gatti-Casazza, president of the Metropolitan's newest partnership, Anichini Galli-Curci, in Verdi's La Traviata.

With the primary consideration that of providing for defensive navies, the American delegates, in drafting the present relative strength for the three great naval powers as the only feasible basis for any agreement. The proposed limits of capital ships for these powers were regarded as sufficient to insure the maintenance of sufficient naval power for the defense of the American delegates were reported to have rejected, as basis for consideration, the questions of territorial possessions, their extent, and whether they were scattered or collected. They also were said to have rejected, as impractical in considering a defensive navy, the question of release of respective coast lines.

From Box Car to Castle

"From Box Car to Castle" sounds like a fairy tale or the title of a movie thriller, but it is a true story in Europe these days. Of course, plenty of castle residents have been moving out and locating in box cars, so it works both ways. Impoverished noblemen move out and fat profiteers move in, as a rule, but now and then one of these fine old houses gets a charming type of new tenant. The handsome estate shown in the photograph, "Liegeuschaft," is housing the largest family in its history, about 65, and its aristocratic paneled walls echo with an amazing amount of merry chatter and laughter. It had probably been many a day since any kind of merriment had sounded through its tapestried halls. The present possessors of this big villa and the two dwellings on the grounds, are 30 baby orphans, 1 to 5 years old, and the women who take care of them.

Nothing but American money could have purchased such a good home for these helpless youngsters. The National Lutheran Council, through its European Commissioner, Dr. John A. Morehead, made the deal, and turned it over to a local committee of the Lutheran Church of America, to be managed by Miss Margaret Wahliss, who gathered up 60 little waifs out of box cars where destitute refugees were letting them sleep and giving them scraps of food now and then when they had any. They were transported one wagon load at a time. The vehicle and the horses belong to an exiled Russian nobleman who now makes his living as a teamster in Vienna. The nurse who accompanied this last load filled up the extra space with a big bale of hay for the cows.

Liegeuschaft, located in a beautiful suburban section, Huetteldorf, at the foot of the slope of the Salzberg, adapted itself with ease to the new regime. Billiard rooms and boudoires were turned into splendid nurseries over night, and the library makes the jolliest sort of playroom on rainy days. The crystal fringed candelabra have a most fascinating jingle. As for the kitchen, it fills its old time sphere, but it is ten times busier than ever before, and works overtime. Gardens, orchards, cows and chickens, were counted in the first equipment, so that little outside purchasing is necessary. The apple trees are immensely popular with these children who had forgotten what apples looked like, even if they ever had known. Inside the white picket fence are chestnut trees rigged up with rope swings. Back of the vegetable garden is a rippling brook with tiny pebbles on the bottom that tickle your bare feet, and there is a perfectly stunning robber's cave up the hill a little way.

American Lutherans, in their World Series Campaign, October 15-31 for $1,250,000, are underwriting numerous orphanages in 17 countries of Europe in addition to the Council's many other activities there.

DISARMAMENT TALK DEPRESSES MARKET

"War Brides" and Several of Munition and Ordnance Issues Make Substantial Declines

New York, Nov. 14.—The financial community expressed its hearty endorsement today of Secretary Hughes' proposals for a naval holiday but that feeling evidently did not extend to the stock market, which became reactionary after a hesitant opening.

Shares which once occupied the center of the stage as "war brides," particularly the various steel and ordnance issues, were steadily offered at more or less substantial declines, the movement spreading later to the general list.

Foremost among these was Bethlehem Steel, which takes first rank as a producer of armor plate. That stock sustained a setback of 4 1/2 points, only a small part of which was recovered.

Standard Oil of New Jersey was the spectacular feature, reacting about 13 points from its high of the morning and forfeiting almost half of last week's gain. Other industrials, as well as rails and specialties, recorded lowest prices of the season in the active selling of the final hour.

Realizing sales had a marked effect on prices of bonds, most Liberty issues and the domestic list generally easing. The only noteworthy exception was among local traction, which were strong on better refunding prospects.

Surgeons Sew Up Cut Inch Long in Heart

New York.—Four stitches were taken in the heart of Frank Farino, sixteen, stabbed accidentally. The wound was an inch long. After the operation, performed through an opening made between two ribs, Farino asked to sit up. Doctors are hopeful for his recovery. The operation required 35 minutes, stitches being taken only when the heart was contracted. Dr. James M. Downer and Dr. George Doyle performed the operation, said to be the first of its kind.

"THERE'S DEATH IN THE POT"

A Celebrated London Doctor Used the Above to Conquer the Danger of Overeating.

Worse Than Overeating is Failure to Eliminate Waste.

Nature could not devise a way to feed and repair the body without the production of considerable waste matter. But Nature provided for the regular, thorough elimination of such waste. To disregard her intention is to break a natural law.

Whether you help Nature by wise or foolish means is left to your own judgment. To simply force bowel movement is unwise, unnatural and ineffective. You can choose harsh, drastic, violently acting drugs or take such without caring what their action or effect is, or you can select some old time-proven, trial-tested remedy, that has been used for 70 years or more by thousands of people all over the world, with the result that it has won an enviable reputation as a reliable household remedy. Take Beecham's for example. All the world knows Beecham's, a goodly part of the world uses Beecham's, has been using it for years, handing its use down from father to son, from mother to daughter, for generation after generation, recommending it to others. In spite of such extensive and general use, who ever heard complaint or criticism of Beecham's? That in itself is a powerful recommendation.

Don't take anything for granted. Reason it out. All druggists sell Beecham's, are glad to sell them. Beecham's reputation has been made by its users not by its sellers.

"And Man, How I Did Eat Real Food!"
LOOKING BACK, now, to those vacation days, there's a lively kindling of joy—even in the memory of appetite at camp-fire meals.
Real food—and real hunger!
That's the year-around relationship between appetite and Grape-Nuts—that crisp and wholesome gift from the great out-of-doors—the perfected goodness of Nature's best food grains.
There's a flavor and charm to Grape-Nuts that appeal to the appetite like the tang of the summer camp, and there's a scientific balance of nutrition and a readiness of digestion that make Grape-Nuts a wonderful aid to health and vigor.
"Real food!" is the verdict of enthusiastic thousands who find a daily delight in the unique sweetness and crispness of Grape-Nuts, and who "carry on" splendidly with its body-building nourishment.
Let the zest of appetite be a companion of your indoor meals, too.
Grape-Nuts is sold and served wherever good food is sold and served.

PRETTY AUTUMN WEDDING.
Miss Edna K. Many Becomes Bride of Hugh E. King.
Hobart, Nov. 14.—A pretty autumn wedding was solemnized at the Grahamsville Methodist Episcopal church on Thursday, November 10, when Miss Edna Kathryn Many, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Many, became the bride of Hugh E. King of Hobart.

The church was attractively decorated with oak leaves, ferns and yellow, pink and white chrysanthemums. At 12 o'clock, to the strains of Wagner's Wedding March from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. Kream, the bride and groom entered the church. The bride, in a white gown with a train, carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom, in a dark suit, carried a boutonniere of white roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. S. Haynes, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Hobart.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents and luncheon was served to about 20 guests. The bride's table was decorated with ferns and yellow chrysanthemums. After their wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. King will make their home in Hobart, where Mr. King is engaged in the garage and electrical business.

Those from Hobart who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John King, Miss Elizabeth King, Mrs. G. K. Warren, Miss Isabelle King and Ralph Rose.

Well-Known Clergyman Ill.
Relatives and friends in Hobart are very much concerned to learn of the serious illness of Rev. Frank B. Cowan of Glen Cove, Long Island, who is in a Brooklyn hospital, where he is undergoing treatment.

Briefly Told.
Mr. and Mrs. George T. Rich were called to Syracuse by the sudden death of Mrs. Rich's mother, Mrs. L. C. Doust.—Miss Helen King of New York city was a week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John King.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ingles and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Simmons have returned from an auto trip to New York city and are at their father's farm in Kortright.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Sturgeons have returned from their honeymoon trip and are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Sturgeons, township, for a time.

Party at Ingles Home.
About 40 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ingles gathered at their home last Friday night for a social time. Daneg was one of the principal diversions of the evening, excellent music being furnished by Cleveland Manchester's orchestra. At a late hour delicious and bountiful refreshments were served. A good time is reported by all in attendance.

GIRL FOUND CARD
Wedding Followed a Romance of the War.
When Peter Fardull, a young Obion, threw a card, bearing his name and address, out of a car at Dickerson as he was travelling from Washington to his home after his discharge from the army, two years ago, he sealed his matrimonial fate, for it resulted in his marriage to Miss Anna Virginia Mullican, seventeen years of age, of Dickerson.

Fardull's card bore the suggestion that the sender should communicate with him. This Miss Mullican, who picked up the card, did. Correspondence ensued, and engagement by mail resulted.
Fardull several days ago visited Dickerson. He and the young woman went to Rockville and were married by Rev. Nolan B. Harmon, Jr., pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Remarkable Family.
A woman with six young "hopefuls" in assorted sizes entered the day coach. She selected a double seat and occupied one-half herself. The oldest child lay down on the opposite seat and the other five sat on his prostrate body. By and by the conductor appeared, and upon being handed one full-fare ticket he sized up the little group and said: "You'll have to pay for some of these children. What is the age of the oldest?" To which the lady answered tartly: "Go on with ye; the oldest one is under five."

NEW PLAN OF GRAFTING
Downing Has Red Astrakhan Apples Growing on a Pear Tree.
Residents of Norway, Me., and vicinity are making pilgrimages to the orchard of Solon Downing to prove the truth of his story about town that he has been picking red Astrakhan apples from his Bartlett pear tree. Downing offers substantial proof.
Six years ago this man grafted six scions into his Bartlett pear tree. It appears that one of these must have been an Astrakhan apple scion instead of a pear. But the scions grew, blossomed and fruited this year and the apples are genuine red Astrakhan pear-shaped, pear tasting or otherwise indicative of their new parentage.
The feat of grafting an apple scion on a pear tree is said to be new to horticulturists.

First Slacker Tried and Sentenced.
Louis Judolovitz of Brooklyn, N. Y., the first man named in the government slacker lists to be tried by court-martial, was sentenced to one year in military prison. He must also forfeit his pay and allowances.

AESTHETIC RODENTS
GET A $30,000 HOME
Music, Gymnasium and Modern Social Life Will Make These Rats Gentlemen.

The superrat, like the superman, is not, as Nietzsche would have it, of the warrior type, but is a gentleman or gentleman, an aristocrat at heart, although democratic in his ways. He is gentle and sociable, a good fellow, as it were, healthy and active and has an aesthetic side, being fond of good music.

These are some of the conclusions drawn from years of experiments with the ordinary rodent by Dr. Milton H. Greenman, director of the Wistar Institute.

To make observations on a more extensive scale and under more favorable conditions than heretofore, particularly in food research, the institute is building a $30,000 home for rats. This building, now in course of construction, will be a one-story wing to the present building and will be provided with every kind of convenience conducive to rat comfort and well being. The results, it is believed, will be of far-reaching benefit to mankind.

Besides an office and laboratory there will be a well-equipped gymnasium for the rats. Ladders for climbing, modified trapeze, running space, treadmill cages and gnawing apparatus will be provided to give the eugenically-raised rodent the proper exercise.

TOURISTS PASS UP SWISS
Money Rates Are Blamed for Lack of Sightseers.

Switzerland has reached the acute stage of economic stringency resulting from a too favorable rate of exchange. The tourist season, upon which it depends to such a great extent, opened with little prospects.

Tourists who usually visit Switzerland during the summer, are going to French and Italian resorts. The Swiss, themselves, to a considerable extent, are abandoning their own country to spend their earnings in France, where Swiss money counts for twice its value at home, or in Italy, where it counts five times the normal value.

The crisis shows not only in the absence of tourist trade, but on industrial stagnation, a good many workers being already out of employment.

A few weeks ago it looked as if the delegations to the second assembly of the League of Nations, September 5, would find difficulty in getting lodgings here. It now appears that the hotels will welcome the league delegations unless there is an unexpectedly radical change in the travel situation.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup
Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.
Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less. Get half ounce of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time. It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat ticks and hoarse cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarse-ness or bronchial asthma. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for 1/2 ounce of Pinex with full directions and do not accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

PREDICTS LOWER PRICES.
Does S. F. Frensdorff of Miller Hide Company, Speaking of Raw Furs.

S. F. Frensdorff of the Miller Hide company, who has recently returned from New York city, stated that in his opinion formed through interviews with various people connected with the fur industry that present prices being offered for raw furs, are entirely too high considering the fact that millions of dollars were lost last year through deflation of prices. It is quite evident that high prices are being offered during the early part of the season merely to stimulate the catch, as the trappers refused to make any effort to trap furs last season on account of the low prices being offered.

The threatened strike of the garment workers in New York, which in all probability will involve some 40,000 employees, may have a tendency to affect the demand for furs used for dress trimmings, etc.

He also says that the company he represents intends to dispose of their fur collections weekly for reasons above stated. Those who speculate this season may do so to their sorrow. Mr. Frensdorff further states that it is his positive opinion that the tendency of the market will be downward, as the conditions in the money market are not favorable and the large banking interests in New York have already lost heavily through loans made to some of the larger New York fur houses during the seasons of 1919 and 1920.

BOY LEADS BAND OF THIEVES
Philadelphia Youth Could Start Motor Cars, No Matter How Well Locked.

Declared by the police of Philadelphia to be the leader of an organized band of youthful motor thieves who have stolen, in six months, 200 cars, valued at more than $500,000, Charles J. Ricketts, sixteen years old, was arrested. Confession has been made, the police say, to the theft of five of the cars.

The arrest of Ricketts was accomplished by detectives as the youth was alleged to be going after his "latest machine." He was held in $2,000 bail. According to the detectives, Ricketts is a fine mechanic. Although just past his sixteenth birthday, they say he can start any car, no matter how well locked, by using a small piece of copper wire.

"We have been after this lad for three months," said Detective Falvey. "He is certainly in a class by himself and a born leader. No wonder his gang, five of whom are already in jail, awaiting sentence, were afraid of him. Several were older than he, but he seemed to be able to boss them like a wannager."

COST OF THE WORLD WAR

At a time when the nations of the world are in conference looking to the limitation of naval armaments, which if it becomes effectual, will no doubt be followed by a reduction also of the land branch of the service, it is interesting and instructive to look over certain figures which are compiled which show with appalling certainty what the cost of the World War has been to the United States and the rest of mankind. For the two years during which the cooperation of our country in the World War lasted, the cost was in money over one million of dollars an hour to our nation for the entire period. During the last year of the war, 1918, the expenditure of all the warring nations were in excess of ten millions of dollars an hour for the entire period. Complete figures of the total cost of the war are difficult to obtain, but a careful estimate is that at par of currencies it was over $240,000,000,000. Figured on a pre-war value of currencies their purchasing power in 1918—the cost would have been ninety-one billions and this was 15.9 per cent of the wealth of the world.

This a purely a financial outlook. Staggering as it is, it is relatively unimportant, since thrift and toil might in a limited period recoup the loss. But the loss of human life is a loss greater and more appalling. The known dead of the war numbered 6,538,529; there were 3,437,710 seriously wounded, 8,518,497 otherwise wounded, and 4,653,522 prisoners of war. Add to these the figures of the Central powers and the death toll amounts to ten millions of men, with more than six and a quarter million seriously wounded. Take all the casualties on both sides included, the total loss of human life is 36,000,000. In this connection and in view of the important place which Japan takes in the conference at Washington as one of the Allies, it may be noted that her total loss in the war in which she was listed as an allied belligerent was 300, with 397 wounded and three missing. The American loss in killed, wounded, missing was 303,100 and of these 112, 136 were either killed or missing and to these can be added 121,000 wounded.

Vast as are these figures, the financial ones are increased by the estimated value of $29,000,000,000 in property loss, of which only one and three-quarters billions was in Germany; the United States and England alone contributed $475,000,000 for relief and neutral countries spent a billion and three-quarters in maintaining their neutrality. There was also the loss of productive energy of 20,000,000 men actually in the field and reckoning the result of their labor at $500, this makes a further loss of forty-five billions in production.

Will Irwin, author of "The Next War," brings to comparison another abiding loss which cannot be made good in these words, "In ten millions of soldiers lies the dead loss. Take France, who suffered most heavily of all. She had nearly a million and three-quarters men killed in action, died of wounds and missing in action. But that does not tell the whole story. Of her young soldiers between the ages of nineteen and thirty-one years, about sixty per cent died in the war. It is doubtful if this glorious young company left as much as one child piece." Commenting on the same line, Prof. E. L. Bogart of the University of Illinois agrees that "it will probably be years, possibly generations before the full cost of the war in suffering and race deterioration can be properly measured."

These facts which no doubt are familiar to the statesmen of the world now in conference at Washington. They will no doubt have great weight when the nations come finally to weigh the American proposal so definitely set forth by Secretary Hughes. As for the people of the United States and for that matter of the world, they should read and carefully consider them, and if there is a tendency on the part of any nation in any action of any nation to object to a program which looks toward eventual world peace, they should make their sentiments known. The world has suffered too greatly in the past seven years to be willing now to turn its back upon a program which promises so much of good for humanity.

FRATERNAL AXE ON ITS WAY.

Emblem of Odd-Fellowship Presented to Richmondville Lodge Last Evening.
The fraternal axe, an emblem of Odd-Fellowship which was started from Diamond Rock Lodge, No. 561 of Troy, on March 12, 1917, on a journey to various lodges of the order in the state and which was presented to Richmondville lodge of this city on September 28, last, was carried to Richmondville last evening by a delegation of Odd Fellows and there presented to Richmondville lodge. The axe is now nearing the end of its long journey. From Richmondville it will go to another lodge in the Schoharie district, from there to Albany and thence to its starting place in Troy.

About 50 members of Centennial lodge, motivated to Richmondville last evening with the axe and were royally entertained by the Odd Fellows of that village. But Grand Garre Rogers of this city formally presented the axe to the Richmondville lodge.

Schoharie Really American.

Only 2.9 per cent of the white people of Schoharie county are foreign born, according to figures furnished made October 12 by the Bureau of Census at Washington.

Schoharie county again leads all the counties in the state in percentage of American born people.

WHAT THE NEWSPAPERS SAY

Proposed Tax on Personal Gifts.
If you are thinking of making personal gifts in excess of $20,000, prepare to make them before the end of next month. This advice is based on the clause in the senate tax bill, which the house is likely to accept, providing that all personal gifts after this year shall be taxed on a scale ranging from one per cent on 20,000 to 50,000 to a maximum of 5 per cent on all over ten millions.

This action was taken because Secretary Mellon has said that many wealthy men are preparing to make inheritance taxes by distributing their wealth while alive or by forming trusts and gifts to avoid payment here—[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

Corn as Fuel.

The use of corn for fuel has slightly the margin of possibility in the way of what the consumers of the country afford. It would be well for them to resort to adjustments to study closely the reason of this corn burning movement. Those who would preserve the market for coal, railroad service or anything else must keep it within the consumer's reach by bringing prices back to a reasonable level.—[New York Sun.]

Noble Use of Armistice Day.
It was reserved for America to conceive and to proclaim a day of a different sort. The anniversary of the armistice might have been used for a solemn commemoration. It might have been given, and rightly given, in a solemnity of sorrow to the unknown dead that it is a noble use to dedicate it as well to the unknown living—and to the infinite company of all who are to live through the coming generations in a world rid of the millions who fought and have fallen in our time.—[Philadelphia Ledger.]

Not Case for Treating.
It is reported from Washington that the federal bloc in congress is willing to forego its desires on the latest profits tax in return for a tremendous increase in the inheritance taxes. It is most earnestly to be hoped that no such dicker will be consummated. Before a measure is adopted which would seriously impair the nation's capital, and is loaded with legal and constitutional objections, there ought to be a straight out fight over that issue on its merits. To make so vital a question the mere football of the squabble over an immediate tax raising exigency would be criminal delinquency.—[Weekly Review.]

Recording an Arkansas Incident.
On Saturday a horse driven to a sled by Hiram Timberlake discovered a yellow jacket's nest and immediately started for the county seat to record its discovery and started so quickly that a leg of Mr. Timberlake caught in contact with the sled and was badly injured.—[Hartsville, Ark., Record.]

Texas Gold.

The output of gold in Texas for 1920 was five ounces, valued at $400, according to a statement of the Geological Survey. That amount was reduced from other years. There is no gold mining in the state. The silver output for the state was 522,815 ounces, valued at about $1.0 an ounce.—[Galveston News.]

Open Diplomacy.
Skepticism about foreign affairs, as they are at present conducted, is justified. But skepticism about the power of public opinion, if it can be aroused and instructed, to reshape foreign policy means hopelessness about the future of the world. The commercial open door is needed. But the need is greater than the door be opened to light, to knowledge and understanding. If these forces will not create a public opinion which will in time secure a lasting and just settlement of other problems there is no recovery save despair of civilization. Liberals can do something better than predicting failure and impugning motives. They can work for the open door of open diplomacy, of continuous and intelligent inquiry, of discussion free from propaganda. To which this responsibility on the alleged ground that economic imperialism and organized greed will surely bring the conference to failure is supreme and shameful.—[Prof. John Dewey in the New Republic.]

Perry and Hughes.
Commander Perry's task in 1851 was to deliver Japan from its isolation. The task of Secretary Hughes in 1921 is to deliver Japan from an excessive imitation of Western practices.—[Chicago Daily News.]

OTSEGO SUPERVISORS

ANNUAL SESSION OF BOARD BEGINS MONDAY AT COOPERSTOWN.

A. W. Brown in Chair with D. J. Kilkenny as Clerk and Fletcher A. Blanchard Assistant—State Tax for County $71,100.39—Report of Sheriff Williams Submitted.

Cooperstown, Nov. 14—(Special).—The local board of supervisors of Otsego county opened its annual session at the supervisors' chambers at the Court House here today with A. W. Brown of Plainfield in the chair. D. J. Kilkenny of Otsego at the clerk's desk. Fletcher A. Blanchard of Cooperstown was unanimously elected assistant clerk.

Upon the call of the roll the entire board responded as follows:
To wit: Supervisors—Henry H. Dutton, Hartwick; Charles H. Root, Cherry Valley; John Sawyer, Leicester; John Nelson, Edinboro; Lee W. Locke, 1st Dist.; Lee S. H. Cross, Hartwick; Harry D. Biderbeck, Laurens; Fred M. Hild, Maryland; James P. Priory, a delegate; Robert G. McMorris, 2nd Dist.; Stuart B. Haight, Hartwick; Chester T. Backus, New Lisbon; James Hall, Oneonta town; Frank Taber, Oneonta city; 1st Dist.; Orail A. Farwell, Oneonta city; 2d Dist.; George L. Packer, Oneonta city; 3d Dist.; George Ellis, Oneonta; Luther C. Hunt, Oneonta; J. Louis White, Hartwick; J. Dwight Beardslee, Plainfield; A. W. Brown, Hartwick; Fred E. Fox, Roseton; Robert J. Smith, Hartwick; Frank M. Smith, Hartwick; William Dickson, Hartwick; Lee McMorris, Hartwick; Carter R. Hadsell, Hartwick.

Chairman Brown announced at the opening session that former Assemblyman George L. Backus, having been appointed representative of the second ward of the city of Oneonta in the place of S. A. Disbrow, resigned, he would act on all standing committees in his stead.

Chief Kilkenny read a statement from the controller's office to the effect that the Board would be required to raise by taxation for the fiscal year beginning June 1, 1921, the sum of $71,499.39 for the following purposes:

Direct state tax for general purposes, $17,551; support of common schools, teachers, etc., $61,269.25; armory purposes, $5,330.44; court strengtheners' expenses, $1,209.00.

The State Commission of Highways submitted a statement showing the amount of state road in each town of the county and the amount each town would be required to raise for the maintenance thereof as follows: Burlington—6.50 miles, $250; Battenburg—7.01 miles, $250; Cherry Valley—5.10 miles, $250; Edinboro—2.70 miles, $150; Exeter—2.20 miles, $150; Hartwick—2.57 miles, $250; Laurens—3.22 miles, $250; Maryland—13.84 miles, $700; Milford—11.71 miles, $500; Middlefield—2.20 miles, no tax; Morris—6.55 miles, $350; Oneonta—11.37 miles, $350; Otsego—3.46 miles, $100; Otsego—3.50 miles, $250; Plainfield—9.24 miles, $350; Rockfield—10.57 miles, $350; Roseton—1.34 miles, $50; Sippicanfield—1.55 miles, $50; Unadilla—2.21 miles, $150; Westford—1.15 miles, $200; Worcester—10.04 miles, $500. Total mileage in county, 138.50; total tax, $5,550.

A letter was read from Supreme Court Justice A. L. Kellogg requesting that the board appropriate the sum of fifty dollars to cover additional expenses of the court chambers at Oneonta. The request was referred to the committee on county officers and compensation.

The report of the inspection of the county jail at Cooperstown was read. This inspection was made last July and the report already has been printed. Sheriff Fred S. Williams also submitted his report for the ten months from January 1, 1921, to October 31, 1921. The report showed that during that period ninety-five male and five female prisoners had been received. The total cost for food for the sheriff's family and jail inmates, 11,823 meals amounted to $1,875.44. Cost of food for sheriff's family, 4,467 meals, $261.97; jail inmates, 10,361 meals, $1,352.47; cost of food for family and inmates per day, for each individual,

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

by S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.

Reports from various cities of the country show that, notwithstanding the present conditions of unemployment, savings bank deposits are continually increasing.

Fundamentally this is one of the most significant indications of the soundness of our economic situation, and leads to encouragement to the belief that better times lie immediately ahead of us.

When the people of a nation are not practicing thrift there is cause for real alarm, but when there is a growth in savings bank deposits, which is one of the most tangible indications of popular thrift, we can feel that our nation is on the high road to substantial prosperity. It must be understood that we add to our capital only through savings. All the wealth of our nation today represents the difference between production and consumption; thus the less we waste and the more we produce the greater will be the enhancement of our capital from day to day.

Nothing so stabilizes the individual as savings, home-ownership or reliable investments. The individual who has such possessions as the results of systematic thrift is a unit of progress.

It is to be borne in mind also that the potential purchasing power of the public develops only as savings grow. This would not be true if savings were hoarded in a miserly manner and represented money withheld from circulation. But money saved and put in a bank or wisely invested becomes at once an agency of construction. It is withdrawn from uses that are non-essential and becomes a part of the great machine of business development.

In the midst of the present anxiety over future business conditions the fact that the people are saving their money stands out as a significantly hopeful sign. It is the material from which the optimist may construct most powerful arguments. It is not only a factor in industrial rehabilitation, but it is a sign that the people of this country are doing the right kind of thinking and are practicing what they think.

Our various political and business leaders can do nothing that will have a more salutary effect on the business situation of America than the emphatic encouragement of popular thrift.

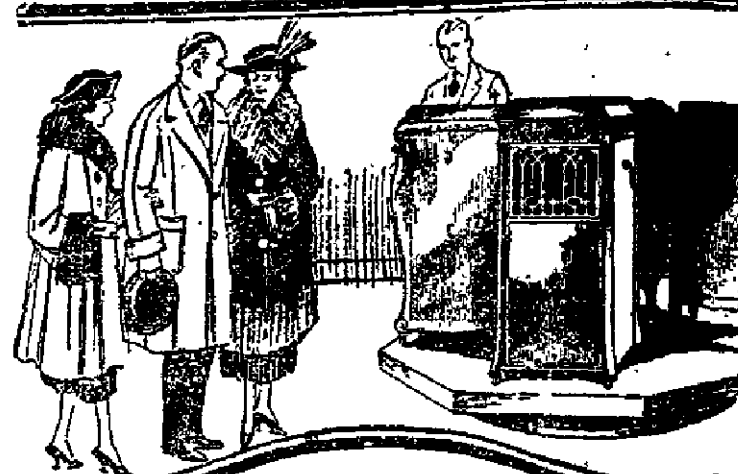

77 1/2 cents. The number of days' work performed by prisoners at the county farm was sixty, and the total number of county farm, court house grounds and houses, 1,040.

The sheriff reported the expense account as follows: making criminal investigations, etc., $505.69, sheriff's quarters, expense, $572.41; auto mileage in criminal matters, $42.43 miles; coal for jail, $438.97; coal for court house, $1,265.67.

Mr. Williams also submitted a list of recommendations for certain repairs to the jail and sheriff's residence. The report was accepted unanimously, Chairman Brown announcing that as compared with former years the expense of Mr. Williams' administration was running very low.

Otsego Farming a Century Ago.

One of our exchanges published in Cooperstown recently, printed a report of production of farm products in that county one hundred years ago. The best acre of winter wheat was 16 bushels and 44 pounds, spring wheat 26 bushels and 10 pounds, 47 pounds of peas, oats 80 bushels and a peck, Indian corn 127 bushels and 15 quarts to the acre. Potatoes 169 bushels to the half acre. Since that time, until recently, not enough attention has been given to building up the soil and production has lessened. What has been done can be done again and these figures on production are good to keep in mind as a goal to be attained.—[Oxford Review Times.]

The truth about phonographs—

WOULD you like to hear the four leading makes of phonographs in a really scientific comparison?—and size them up in terms of the thing you're really buying,—music?

Our Turn-Table Comparison plays the four leading makes of phonographs, in the same room, from the same position. Recordings by the same artists are used.

Thus, the comparison is absolutely scientific. The difference between the various instruments is brought out with greatest possible clearness,—and you are able to get your first thorough understanding of what each can actually do.

LOCAL MENTION

—The ladies of the West End Baptist church announce a 25 cent supper to be served in the church parlors on Wednesday evening.

—James Tilley has purchased the property at 455 Main street from Mrs. Letitia Bishop of Schenectady. It is understood that Mr. Tilley does not intend to use the property as a residence, but will, after improvements have been made, either rent or sell it. The sale was made through the real estate agency of H. M. Bald & Son.

—Numerous complaints have been received at police headquarters relative to the use of steel traps within the city limits. In several instances where traps have been set close to houses, especially along Lower Chestnut street, pet cats and dogs, and occasionally chickens, have been caught and a leg broken or some other injury caused. By these practices trapping becomes a nuisance to many citizens, and it is urged that parents see to it that their boys are more careful where they place their traps.

Meetings Today.

The Sanctuary girls of St. James' church will meet in the rectory this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Main Street Baptist church will meet in the church assembly at 2:30 this afternoon. All ladies of the church are urged to be present.

The Business Woman's club will hold their first "Open House" this evening at 7:30, at the Community house. Each member may bring a friend.

Stated meeting of Martha chapter, No. 116, O. E. S., this evening at 7:30. Refreshments at close of meeting.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Baptist church will meet in the church parlors this afternoon at 2:30.

Regular meeting of Loyal Star, No. 136, in K. of P. hall, tonight at 7:30 o'clock. All members urged to attend, as there is business of importance.

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church will meet at the church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A covered dish supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

Meetings Wednesday.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Community house at 15 Ford avenue. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Lou Williams.

The P. N. S. Grand association will hold a meeting in Odd Fellows hall at Oneonta, Wednesday, Nov. 16. Meeting called at 1:40 p. m. Dinner served at noon.

ODGENSBURG PLEASED.

With "Some Girl," Which Comes to Oneonta Theatre Tonight.

Relative to "Some Girl," which comes to the Oneonta theatre tonight, the Ogdensburg Morning Journal says:

"Some Girl" came to Ogdensburg at a notable time—in the midst of some wonderful shows—but "Some Girl" proved to be some show. It is a musical show out of the ordinary—a show with a pretty dancing chorus and groupings that are really sing. Like all musical shows of the better class it is well staged, the chorus well dressed and the scenic effects all that could be desired. The leading lady, Miss Sudrun Walberg as "Babette," had much to do and did it well. She has a pleasing stage presence a delightful voice and a personality. With this trinity of accomplishments she made a huge success.

Allen Carter as Richard Morgan was quite popular. He had a fine lyric tenor and all the other accomplishments so necessary for a star. All in all it was a fine show and proved mighty entertaining.

WINTER PICNIC WEDNESDAY EVENING.
The Home Economics club will hold a winter picnic at the Community House Wednesday, Nov. 16. Dinner at 12:30. Bring something for dinner, also silver, cup and plate.

Suggestion for Christmas presents will be given.
Oneonta Plains club has been invited to this meeting.

GERTRUDE CROSBY COMPANY.

At High School Auditorium Wednesday Evening, November 16.

The second number of the Normal and Public School Lecture and Musical course is to be given by this distinguished company. Its personnel is as follows:

Gertrude Crosby, reader, is one of the most popular entertainers. She has had endless experience before all types of audiences, for she has traveled the entire United States, Panama, France and England. She is not to be confused with the ordinary reader as her work is entirely individual. Her charm lies in a vivacious personality, unusual ability and originality. She presents clever stories, and costumed songs. Her "Baschall Song" is one of the most fascinating bits of realism in the business.

Miss Crosby is assisted by Frank Conway, baritone and violinist, and Louise Thompson, pianist and soprano.

Reservations for seats may be made by those who hold season tickets without additional charge, at the store of Ralph W. Murdoch, Oneonta hotel block, Wednesday after 8 a. m. No sale.

BEST TOWNSHIP SYSTEM.

Theme for Consideration at Rural School Conference in Oneonta.

Saturday of this week, as has been announced, there will be a rural school conference at the Municipal building in Oneonta. Things to be discussed are: Old Township System or New Community Unit? District Superintendents or County Commissioners? Local Government in Rural Affairs or Management in Remote Offices by Village or City People. Schools Designed for Rural People or City Schools Transplanted to the Crossroads?

These are the themes which the Joint Committee on Rural Schools, commonly known as the Committee of Twenty-one, states will be considered at the Oneonta meeting, at which it is expected that all local farm organizations in Otsego, Delaware, Schoharie and Chenango counties will be represented. Speakers of prominence will be in attendance, and the proposals of the committee relative to rural school betterment will be presented. All residents of rural communities are earnestly invited to be present.

ELECTION EXPENSES.

All Candidates Must File Statements by Friday of This Week.

Candidates at the last general election have ten days from the day of the election in which to file statements of their expenses. The time expires on Friday of this week, and as yet only a part of the candidates have filed statements in Oneonta. To fail to do so is a misdemeanor, and in the case of successful candidates carries with it forfeiture of the office to which they have been elected. City candidates must file their statements in the office of the city clerk, county candidates with the board of election commissioners.

All candidates, whether successful or not, and whether they have spent money or not, are required to file statements.

THEATRE ADEQUATELY HEATED.

Installation of New Heating System Completed at Hathaway's Playhouse.

Installation of the new heating system at the Oneonta theatre has been completed and the plant was in operation for the first time yesterday.

The new plant is situated under the stage and consists of a Thatcher double boiler furnace with every modern accessory. The old heating equipment will be used to heat the stores and apartments in the front part of the building.

The new equipment is of more than ample capacity to heat the stage and huge auditorium and no trouble should be experienced in the future in keeping the theatre at a comfortable temperature. The layout given the plant last evening proved entirely satisfactory, which augurs well for the comfort of theatre patrons during the cold months ahead.

WANDERERS VICTORIOUS

Communally Athletic Association Team Defeats Company G in Good Earth Season Game at the Armory Last Evening—Five Spots Beat Independents in Preliminary Contest.

The Oneonta Wanderers, the Communally Athletic Association's representative on the basket ball court, indicated their right to bear the city's name by defeating the fast Company G team, 36 to 18, at the Armory last evening before a fair sized crowd of devotees of the game. The Wanderers displayed far from the form which carried them to victory in a majority of their games during the past two years, but considering that they have not yet had time fully to develop their offense and defense, their performance was not unsatisfactory to their supporters.

Manager Cronquist used his whole squad in the contest thus giving him an opportunity to try out various combinations. Captain Parks was easily the star of the game, tossing in three field baskets and making good on 6 free shots from the foul line. Thomas with 4 field goals closely followed him in scoring. Every man played a hard game and with the exception of Solloway, each one made at least one field goal.

The Company G quintet played a remarkable early season game and at times made their opponents exert their utmost efforts to keep ahead. Loushay and Delaney led the scoring for the soldiers.

COST OF THE WORLD WAR.

At a time when the nations of the world are in conference looking to the limitation of naval armaments, which if it becomes effectual, will no doubt be followed by a reduction also of the land branch of the service, it is interesting and instructive to look over certain figures lately compiled which show with appalling certainty what the cost of the World War has been to the United States and the rest of mankind. For the two years during which the cooperation of our country in the World War cost the cost was in money over one million of dollars an hour to our nation for the entire period. During the last year of the war, 1918, the expenditures of all the warring nations were in excess of ten millions of dollars an hour for the entire period. Consider the enormity of the cost. It is difficult to obtain, but a careful estimate is that at par of currencies it was over $269,000,000,000. Figured on a pre-war value of currencies—their purchasing power in 1913—the cost would have been ninety-one billions and this was 25.9 percent of the wealth of the world.

This is a purely a financial outlook. Suggesting as it is, it is relatively unimportant, since thrift and toil might in a limited period recoup the loss. But the loss of human life is a toll greater and more appalling. The known dead of the fifteen nations, 6,333,525; the wounded, 13,774,000; seriously wounded, 8,516,497; otherwise wounded and 4,653,322 prisoners or missing. Add to these the figures of the Central powers and the death toll amounts to ten millions of men, with more than six and a quarter more millions seriously wounded. Take all the casualties on both sides included under the four heads and the total is 36,000,000. In this connection and in view of the important place which Japan takes in the conference at Washington as one of the Allies, it may be noted that her total loss in the war in which she was listed as an allied belligerent was 300,000, with 900,000 wounded and three missing. The American loss in killed, wounded or missing was 323,196 and of these 112,196 were either killed or missing and to these can be added 191,000 wounded.

Vast as are these figures, the financial ones are increased by the estimated value of $269,000,000,000 in property loss, of which only one and three-quarters billions was in Germany; the United States and England alone contributed $873,000,000 for war relief and neutral countries spent a billion and three-quarters in maintaining their neutrality. There was also the loss of productive energy of 20,000,000 men actually in the field and reckoning the result of their labor at $500, this makes a further loss of forty-five billions in production.

Will Irwin, author of "The Next War," brings to consideration another abiding loss, which cannot be made good, in these words, "In ten millions of soldiers lies the dead loss. Take France, who suffered most heavily of all. She had nearly a million and three-quarters men killed in action, died of wounds and missing in action. But that does not tell the whole story. Of her young soldiers, between the ages of nineteen and thirty-one years, about sixty per cent died in the war. It is doubtful if this glorious young company left as much as one child apiece." Commenting on the same line, Prof. E. L. Bogart of the University of Illinois agrees that it will probably be years possibly generations before the full cost of the war in suffering and race deterioration can be properly measured.

These facts which no doubt are familiar to the statesmen of the world now in conference at Washington. They will no doubt have great weight when the nations come finally to weigh the American proposal so definitely set forth by Secretary Hughes. As for the people of the United States and for that matter of the world, they should read and carefully consider them, and if there is a tendency in the part of any nation, or any faction of any nation, to object to a program which looks toward a real world peace, they should make their sentiments known. The world has suffered too greatly in the past seven years to be willing now to turn its back upon a program which promises so much of good for humanity.

FRATERNAL AXE ON ITS WAY.

Emblem of Odd-Fellowship Presented to Richmondville Lodge Last Evening.
The fraternal axe, an emblem of Odd-Fellowship which was started from Diamond Rock Lodge, No. 361 of Troy, on March 12, 1912, on a journey to various bodies of the order in the state and which was presented to Centennial Lodge of this city on September 25, last, was carried to Richmondville last evening by a delegation of Odd Fellows and there presented to Richmondville Lodge. The axe is now nearing the end of its long journey. From Richmondville it will go to another lodge in the Schoharie district, from there to Albany and thence to its starting place in Troy.

About 30 members of Centennial Lodge motored to Richmondville last evening with the axe and were royally entertained by the Odd Fellows of that village. Cent Grand Cyrus Rogers of this city formally presented the axe to the Richmondville lodge.

Schoharie Really American.
Only 2.9 per cent of the white people of Schoharie county are foreign born, according to an announcement made October 12 by the Bureau of Census at Washington.

Schoharie county again leads all the counties in the state in percentage of American born people.

WHAT THE NEWSPAPERS SAY

Proposed Tax on Personal Gifts.
If you are thinking of making personal gifts in excess of $20,000, prepare to make them before the end of next month. This advice is based on the clause in the estate tax bill which the house is likely to accept, providing that all personal gifts after this year shall be taxed on a scale ranging from one per cent to 20 per cent on all over $10,000.

Corn as Fuel.
The use of corn for fuel is strictly the realm of possibilities in the way of what the consumer can no longer afford. It would be well for those who profit by rearranging to study closely the lesson of this corn burning movement. Those who would preserve the market for coal, railroad service or anything else must keep it within the consumer's reach by bringing prices back to a reasonable level. —[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

Noble Use of Armistice Day.
It was reserved for America to conceive and to proclaim a day of a different sort. The anniversary of the armistice might have been used for a solemn commemoration. It might have been given, and rightly given, in a simplicity of sorrow to the unknown dead. But it is to be used to bring to the public the unknown living—and to the infinite company of all who are to live through the coming generations in a world hallowed by the millions who fought and have fallen in our time. —[Philadelphia Ledger.]

Not Case for Trading.
It is reported from Washington that the farmers' bloc in congress is willing to forego its desires on the excess profits tax in return for a temporary increase in the inheritance taxes. It is most earnestly to be hoped that no such dicker will be consummated. Before a measure is adopted which would seriously impair the nation's capital, and is headed straight toward confiscation of all inheritances, there ought to be a straight out fight over that issue on its merits. To make so vital a question the mere football of the squabble over an immediate tax raising exigency would be criminal delinquency. —[Weekly Review.]

Recording an Arkansas Incident.
On Saturday a horse driven to a stall by Hiram Timberlake discovered a yellow jacket's nest and immediately started for the county seat to record its discovery and started on a quick trip that day. Mr. Timberlake came in contact with the sled and was badly injured. —[Batesville, Ark. Record.]

Texas Gold.
The output of gold in Texas for 1920 was 41.8 ounces, valued at $409, according to a statement of the Geological Survey. That amount was reduced from other ores. There is no gold mining in the state. The silver output for the state was 522,818 ounces, valued at about $1.10 an ounce. —[Calveston News.]

Open Diplomacy.
Scepticism about foreign offices, as they are at present conducted, is justified. But scepticism about the power of public opinion if it is to be preserved and instructed, to reshape foreign office policies means hopelessness about the future of the world. The commercial open door is needed. But the need is greater than the door is opened to light, in knowledge and understanding. If these forces will not create a public opinion which will in time secure a lasting and just settlement of other problems there is no recourse save despair of civilization. Liberals can do something better than predicting failure and impugning motives. They can work for the open door of open diplomacy, of continuous and intelligent inquiry, of discussion free from propaganda. To shift this responsibility on the alleged ground that economic imperialism and organized greed will surely bring the conference to failure is simply and smugly to throw John Dewey at the New Republic.

Perry and Hughes.
Commander Perry's task in 1814 was to deliver Japan from its isolation. The task of Secretary Hughes in 1921 is to deliver Japan from an excessive imitation of western practices. —[Chicago Daily News.]

Chairman Brown announced at the opening session that former Assessor George L. Boeckes, having been elected representative of the second ward of the city of Oneonta in the place of S. A. Dibrow, resigned, he would act on all standing committees in his stead.

Clerk Kilkenny read a statement from the controller's office to the effect that the Board would be required to raise by taxation for the fiscal year beginning June 1, 1921, the sum of $71,490.32 for the following purposes:
Direct state tax for general purposes, $175.67; support of common schools, teachers, etc., $61,269.25; armory purposes, $5,954.44; court stenography expenses, $4,109.96. The State Commission of Highways submitted a statement, showing the amount of state road in each town of the county and the amount each town would be required to raise for the maintenance thereof as follows:
Bath—6.30 miles, $350.
Bath—7.02 miles, $350.

Richfield—10.87 miles, $450.
Rushville—1.33 miles, $50.
Schoharie—1.23 miles, $50.
Schoharie—9.21 miles, $450.
Westford—4.15 miles, $500.
Westford—10.04 miles, $500.
Total mileage in county, 138.50; total tax, $6,550.

A letter was read from Supreme Court Justice A. L. Kellough requesting that the board appropriate the sum of fifty dollars to cover additional expenses of the court chambers at Oneonta. The request was referred to the committee on county officers and compensation.

The report of the inspection of the county jail at Cooperstown was read. This inspection was made last July and the report already has been printed. Sheriff Fred S. Williams also submitted his report for the ten months from January 1, 1921, to October 31, 1921. The report showed that during that period ninety-five male and five female prisoners had been received. The total cost of food for the sheriff's family and jail inmates, 14,328 meals, amounted to $1,855.41. Cost of food for sheriff's family, 4,457 meals, $561.97; jail inmates, 10,361 meals, $1,293.44; cost of food for family and inmates per day, for each individual.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

by S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.

Reports from various cities of the country show that, notwithstanding the present conditions of unemployment, savings bank deposits are continually increasing.

Fundamentally this is one of the most significant indications of the soundness of our economic situation, and lends encouragement to the belief that better times lie immediately ahead of us.

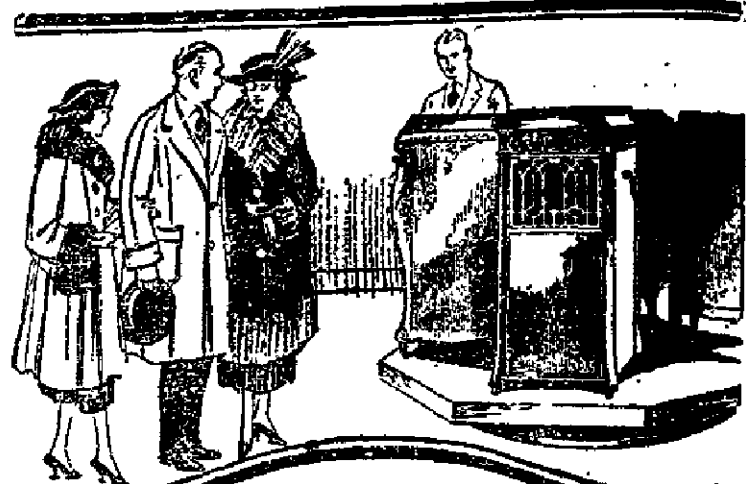

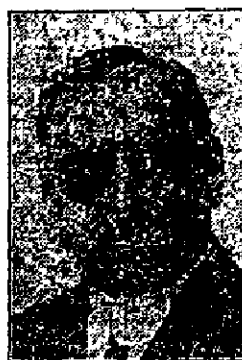

When the people of a nation are not practicing thrift there is cause for real alarm, but when there is a growth in savings bank deposits, which is one of the most tangible indications of popular thrift, we can feel that our nation is on the high road to substantial prosperity. It must be understood that we add to our capital only through savings. All the wealth of our nation today represents the difference between production and consumption; thus the less we waste and the more we produce the greater will be the enhancement of our capital from day to day.

Nothing so stabilizes the individual as savings, home-ownership or reliable investments. The individual who has such possessions as the results of systematic thrift is a unit of progress.

It is to be borne in mind also that the potential purchasing power of the public develops only as savings grow. This would not be true if savings were hoarded in a miserly manner and represented money withheld from circulation. But money saved and put in a bank or wisely invested becomes at once an agency of construction. It is withdrawn from uses that are non-essential and becomes a part of the great machine of business development.

In the midst of the present anxiety over future business conditions the fact that the people are saving their money stands out as a significantly hopeful sign. It is the material from which the optimist may construct most powerful arguments. It is not only a factor in industrial rehabilitation, but it is a sign that the people of this country are doing the right kind of thinking and are practicing what they think.

Our various political and business leaders can do nothing that will have a more salutary effect on the business situation of America than the emphatic encouragement of popular thrift.

The truth about phonographs—

WOULD you like to hear the four leading makes of phonographs in a really scientific comparison?—and size them up in terms of the thing you're really buying,—music?

Our Turn-Table Comparison plays the four leading makes of phonographs, in the same room, from the same position. Recordings by the same artists are used.

Thus, the comparison is absolutely scientific. The difference between the various instruments is brought out with greatest possible clearness,—and you are able to get your first thorough understanding of what each can actually do.

The illusion of slenderness seems to be the thing toward which all fashion designers strive. The long full sleeve is one way of achieving this. The gown of glass green chiffon heavily embroidered in the same color has sleeves which prove the point.

LOCAL MENTION

—The ladies of the West End Baptist church announce a 35 cent supper to be served in the church parlors on Wednesday evening.

—James Tilley has purchased the property at 455 Main street from Mrs. Letitia Bishop of Schenectady. It is understood that Mr. Tilley does not intend to use the property as a residence, but will, after improvements have been made, either rent or sell it. The sale was made through the real estate agency of H. M. Baird & Son.

—Numerous complaints have been received at police headquarters relative to the use of steel traps within the city limits. In several instances where traps have been set close to houses, especially along Lower Chestnut street, pet cats and dogs, and occasionally chickens, have been caught and a leg broken or some other injury caused. By these practices trapping becomes a nuisance to many citizens, and it is urged that parents see to it that their boys are more careful where they place their traps.

Meetings Today.

The Sanctuary girls of St. James' church will meet in the rectory this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Main Street Baptist church will meet in the church assembly at 2:30 this afternoon. All ladies of the church are urged to be present.

The Business Woman's club will hold their first Open House this evening 7:30, at the Community house. Each member may bring a friend.

Stated meeting of Martha chapter, No. 116, O. E. S. this evening at 7:30. Refreshments at close of meeting.

The Ladies Aid society of the First Baptist church will meet in the church parlors this afternoon at 2:30.

Regular meeting of Loyal Star, No. 136, in K. of P. hall, tonight at 7:30 o'clock. All members urged to attend, as there is business of importance.

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church will meet at the church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A covered dish supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

Meetings Wednesday.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Community house at 15 Ford avenue. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Lou Williams.

The Past Noble Grand association will hold a meeting in Odd Fellows' hall at Oneonta, Wednesday, Nov. 13. Meeting called at 1:30 p. m. Dinner served at noon.

OGDENSBURG PLEASED.

With "Some Girl," Which Comes to Oneonta Theatre Tonight.

Relative to "Some Girl," which comes to the Oneonta theatre tonight, the Ogdenburg Morning Journal says: "Some Girl" came to Ogdenburg at a notable time—in the midst of some wonderful shows—but "Some Girl" proved to be "some show." It is a musical show out of the ordinary—a show with a pretty, dancing chorus and principals that can really sing. Like all musical shows of the better class it is well staged, the chorus well dressed and the scenic effects all that could be desired. The leading lady, Miss Sudrun Walberg as "Babette," had much to do and did it well. She has a pleasing stage presence, a delightful voice and a personality. With this trinity of accomplishments she made a huge success.

Allan Carter as Richard Morgan was quite popular. He had a fine lyric tenor and all the other accomplishments so necessary for a star. All in all it was a fine show and proved mighty entertaining.

Winter Picnic Wednesday Evening.

The Home Economics club will hold a winter picnic at the Community House Wednesday, Nov. 16. Dinner at 12:30. Bring something for dinner, also silver, cup and plate.

Suggestion for Christmas presents will be given.

Oneonta Plains club has been invited to this meeting.

GERTRUDE CROSBY COMPANY.

At High School Auditorium Wednesday Evening, November 16.

The second number of the Normal and Public School Lecture and Musical course is to be given by this distinguished company. Its personnel is as follows:

Gertrude Crosby, reader, is one of the most popular entertainers. She has had endless experience before all types of audiences, for she has traveled the entire United States, Panama, France and England. She is not to be confused with the ordinary reader as her work is entirely individual. Her charm lies in a vivacious personality, unusual ability and originality. She presents clever stories and costumed songs. Her "Baseball Song" is one of the most fascinating bits of realism in the business.

Miss Crosby is assisted by Frank Conwell, pianist and violinist, and Louise Thompson, pianist and soprano. Reservations for seats may be made by those who hold season tickets without additional charge, at the store of Ralph W. Murdock, Oneonta hotel block, Wednesday after 8 a. m. No sale.

BEST TOWNSHIP SYSTEM.

Theme for Consideration at Rural School Conference in Oneonta.

Saturday of this week, as has been announced, there will be a rural school conference at the Municipal building in Oneonta. Things to be discussed are: Old Township System or New Community Unit? District Superintendents or County Commissioners? Local Government in Rural Affairs or Management in Remote Offices by Village or City People? Schools Designed for Rural People or City Schools Transplanted to the Crossroads?

These are the themes which the Joint Committee on Rural Schools, commonly known as the Committee of Twenty-one, states will be considered at the Oneonta meeting, at which it is expected that all local farm organizations in Otsego, Delaware, Schoharie and Chenango counties will be represented. Speakers of prominence will be in attendance, and the proposals of the committee relative to rural school betterment will be presented. All residents of rural communities are earnestly invited to be present.

ELECTION EXPENSES.

All Candidates Must File Statements by Friday of This Week.

Candidates at the last general election have ten days from the day of the election in which to file statements of their expenses. The time expires on Friday of this week, and as yet only a part of the candidates have filed statements in Oneonta. To fail to do so is a misdemeanor, and in the case of successful candidates carries with it forfeiture of the offices to which they have been elected. City candidates must file their statements in the office of the city clerk, county candidates with the board of election commissioners.

All candidates, whether successful or not, and whether they have spent any money or not, are required to file statements.

THEATRE ADEQUATELY HEATED.

Installation of New Heating System Completed at Huthaway's Playhouse.

Installation of the new heating system at the Oneonta theatre has been completed and the plant was in operation for the first time yesterday. The new plant is situated under the stage and consists of a Thacher double boiler furnace with every modern accessory. The old heating equipment will be used to heat the stores and apartments in the front part of the building.

The new equipment is of more than ample capacity to heat the stage and huge auditorium and no trouble should be experienced in the future in keeping the theatre at a comfortable temperature. The tryout given the plant last evening proved entirely satisfactory, which augurs well for the comfort of theatre patrons during the cold months ahead.

WANDERERS VICTORIOUS

Community Athletic Association Team Defeated Opponent in Good Early Season Game at the Armory Last Evening—Five Spots Beat Independents in Preliminary Contest.

The Oneonta Wanderers, the Community Athletic association's representatives on the basket ball court, vindicated their right to bear the city's name by defeating the fast Company G team, 36 to 18, at the Armory last evening before a fairly sized crowd of devotees of the game. The Wanderers displayed far from the form which carried them to victory in a majority of their games during the past two years, but considering that they have not yet had time fully to develop their offense and defense, their performance was not unsatisfactory to their supporters.

Manager Crouse used his whole squad in the contest thus giving him an opportunity to try out various combinations. Captain Parks was easily the star of the game, tossing in three field baskets and making good on 6 free shots from the foul line. Thomas with 4 field goals closely followed him in scoring. Every man played a hard game and with the exception of Solloway, each one made at least one field goal.

The Company G quintet played a remarkable early season game and at times made their opponents sweat at their utmost efforts to keep ahead. Loushay and Delaney led the scoring for the soldiers.

FORESEES FAMINE HERE

FERTILITY OF FARM LANDS MUST BE RESTORED.

Large Populations and Low Crop Yields Per Acre Do Not Go Together Says Expert Discussing Getting Fertilizer from the Air.

That the United States is threatened with a future when it will be unable to feed its population, but will be faced by famine conditions similar to those prevailing in the Orient, unless adequate steps are taken to restore the fertility of the soil, is the warning which was conveyed by C. H. McDowell in his recent address to the Chicago Section of the American Chemical Society.

Mr. McDowell contrasted the fertilizer situation in this country with that of Germany, referring to the explosion of the huge chemical works at Oppau, where the Germans made fertilizers through the fixation of atmospheric nitrogen. Fifteen times as large as Germany, the United States, he pointed out, produces only the same amount of barley and not twice as much oats. Germany produces six times as much potatoes and twelve times as much rice as the U. S. Germany, when the war broke out, had 5,000,000 farms, averaging 15 acres, to our 8,340,000 farms, averaging 128 acres.

Forty per cent more wheat, rye, barley, oats and potatoes were produced by these German farms than by our farms. And within the last thirty years Germany has raised her per capita yield from 16 to 29 bushels, while the United States increase is only from 14 to 16. With only one fifth of the land area, Germany shows an agricultural efficiency about six times that of the United States.

Says We Are Wasteful People. Mr. McDowell says: "We of the United States have been a wasteful people. We have had too much land and have moved from state to state in search of more fertile spots and neglected to maintain the producing power of our conquered area."

"Large populations and low crop yields do not go together. In this country our population is rapidly growing and we must more fully utilize nature's stores in our future development. Our population is increasing and our lands at the same time are being depleted. Our ditches are all lined with the fertility of our farms that they were dug to drain. From our rivers we lose annually 500,000,000 tons of fertility, thereby diminishing productivity at a rapid rate. Our sewer pipes are taking from our farms 50,000,000 tons of fertility annually. The crops that are taken from the field and never get back in any form, take 50,000,000 tons of fertility from our lands each year."

The population of the United States will be more than doubled by the year 3000, according to Mr. McDowell, who cites the calculations of Edward M. East of Harvard, whom he also quotes as placing the ultimate population limit of this country at 197,000,000, according to our present methods of agriculture and rates of food and clothing consumption.

The engineer and the chemist must cooperate, says Mr. McDowell, the engineer to prevent the erosion of the land and the deforestation of woodlands, and the chemist to perfect new and improved fertilizer methods, preventing soil famine.

Fertilizer From the Air.

"The progress made in the fixation of atmospheric nitrogen has opened unexpected supplies of this element," said the chemist. "For a long time it has been considered that the three elements, nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, were the only plant foods necessary to supply ordinary soil. However, it is within the last few weeks it seems to have been definitely proved that the tobacco plant must have a certain amount of magnesium in its food supply in order that it may be properly cured."

"It is asserted that the super-existence of the Hawaiian pineapples is due to the mangrove growth in the soils of the distant isles where the fruit grows. Are we then to believe that only these two plants are peculiarly susceptible to such conditions? Most of the experiment stations of the country are now studying the effect of sulphur, both elemental and in compounds. What a research field is open to the agriculturist and the chemist!"

"We could go on pointing out at the moment the scientist. Our agricultural science must be national; must be removed from politics and commercial influences. We must realize that as a nation we must get more from our soil."

Unless these vital problems are solved in the near future, concluded the speaker, coming generations will find their food supply restricted, either as to quantity or variety, to a point where degeneration of the race sets in, and there will be conditions here similar to those now obtaining in the Orient.

HIS SKULL FRACTURED.

Brooklyn Man Falls From Scaffold to East Springfield Church.

C. L. Bruggemann, an interior decorator residing in Brooklyn, who was employed on the Catholic church at East Springfield, had the misfortune yesterday to lose his footing and fall from the scaffold on which he was working to the floor below. The distance was about 25 feet and he struck upon his head and was picked up unconscious. The accident occurred at about 3:45 yesterday afternoon, and Bruggemann was at once placed in an auto and taken to the Throgs Neck hospital at Cooperstown, where he now is. His injuries consist of a fracture of the skull and a compound fracture of one arm. Last evening he was reported to be still unconscious and in a critical condition. He is about 40 years of age.

Leaving for Hackensack.

Harry Simpson, the courteous and capable golf instructor and grounds keeper at the Country club, leaves today for his home in Hackensack, N. J., where he will spend the winter. Though he has received attractive offers near home, he has promised to return for another year and will be on hand when the golfers begin to see signs of grass on the links again. His return will be gratifying to all the members.

A Santa Claus Storehouse.

Work has begun at the Oneonta Department store to provide an entrance from the main floor to the new toy shop, which will be located in the basement. A hole is being cut in the floor opposite the entrance door and stairs will be erected leading down into the new department.

The department store has always had a large line of toys and other things of interest to children, but the creation of the new department in the basement will make it possible for a much larger stock to be carried in the future. Plans have been made to make the toy shop a veritable Santa Claus storehouse, where anything designed to amuse or instruct children can be purchased.

Eastern Star Supper and Card Party.

The entertainment committee of the Eastern Star will hold a catered supper and card party at Masonic hall over Spencer's clothing store, Friday evening from 6:30 to 7:30.

The patronage of the public is solicited and all Masons and Eastern Stars are urged to attend and to pass the word along to all their friends and neighbors.

Following the supper, a progressive card party will be held, for which there will be no charge. An enjoyable social evening is promised for all who attend.

Kidney and Bladder

Troubles Conquered

or Money Back

For 30 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing Marshroot for kidney and bladder troubles and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price on the money back if dissatisfied plan.

Beware of kidney disease—thousands die of every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of the life and health. Watch for symptoms. If you have specks floating before the eyes, dull aching pains in the back, backache and sideache, you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshroot right away.

It has wonderfully benefited tens of thousands of cases of kidney and bladder troubles and is the medicine you can always depend upon. Results are guaranteed.

NOTE—Dr. Daniel G. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his great prescription, Marshroot, aided thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. Hereafter you can always get this effective prescription at a moderate price in tablet form at H. B. Gildersleeve's and all reliable pharmacists the country over. Keep in mind the name, Dr. Carey's Marshroot. No other medicine can take its place.

PURCHASE NORWICH THEATRE

Owners of Strand in This City Add Attractive Norwich Theatre to Their String.

The Schine Theatrical corporation, Inc., which conducts the Strand theatre in this city, has purchased the Colony theatre in Norwich, according to an announcement recently made by officials of the company. The Colony is a modern, beautifully constructed theatre and is one of the best equipped in the state. That the Schine interests, which now own nine theatres, have taken it over is an indication of their progressiveness. The Colony is one of the finest theatres in a city the size of Norwich in the state and its acquisition will increase the prestige which the Schine Theatrical corporation, Inc., has long enjoyed.

Ben Davis, until recently chief of the exploitation staff of First National Pictures, Inc., has become associated in a similar capacity with the Schine corporation and will assume management of the Colony until a permanent manager is appointed. Mr. Davis has had a wide theatrical and newspaper experience, having been associated with Alice Brady in motion picture and legitimate enterprises and with such newspapers as the New York Tribune and the Philadelphia Public Ledger. That a man of his calibre will manage the Norwich theatre is a compliment to the city. Mr. Davis was in Oneonta yesterday as the guest of Manager Rose of the Strand.

Benefit for A. M. E. Church.

Prof. J. Robert Miles and his company of entertainers appeared last evening at Municipal hall for the benefit of the Anna Memorial A. M. E. church, presenting a program which was of much interest and enjoyment to the small but appreciative audience present. Prof. Miles gave several magical stunts which were clever and performed some unusual electrical tricks with a reproduction of the electrical chair in use in penal institutions. A feature of the entertainment was the production of a drama written by Prof. Miles. The play was well acted and contained many humorous and some tragic situations.

KNEW PHYSICIAN WAS WRONG

But, Mr. De Wiggs Need Not Have Been Quite So Outspoken About the Matter.

"My dear," remarked Mrs. De Wiggs, at the breakfast table one morning, "Doctor Lewis says that hot water will cure all diseases."

"He does, does he?" said Mr. De Wiggs. "Yes; and persons who use the treatment ought never be ill at all!"

"Well, I don't believe it."

"Why?"

"You know how I am always ill!"

"But you have never tried the hot-water cure?"

"What! never tried it?" ejaculated De Wiggs, as he sidled towards the door. "Why, I've been in hot water ever since I married you!"

He got outside just in time to miss a tencup fired at him as a parting salute.

SPRAY TREES FROM AIRPLANE

Experiment Is Said to Have Had Good Measure of Success in Saving Trees.

The novel experiment of spraying a grove of trees from an airplane, the first ever attempted in the United States, was made on Aug. 4 over the farm of Harry A. Carver, near Troy, Ohio, to prevent ravages of worms which have twice practically defoliated his grove of 5,000 catalpa trees.

The plane, piloted by Lieut. John A. Macdormey, air service, and carrying E. Dornoy, McCook field, designer, who constructed the sifter used to spray the arsenate of lead powder, flew within twenty or twenty-five feet of the top of the trees, releasing the powder, which was carried by the wind and air currents from the ship's propeller into every part of the grove.

Treatment of trees in this manner saves much time and labor, as an airplane in a few minutes can do work which would require a number of men and many pump sprays several days.

REPORT OIL AND GOLD DISCOVERIES IN ALASKA

Prospectors Investigate Seepage on Cape Simpson—Tell of Vein at Girdwood.

A report of the discovery of a new oil area in Alaska and of a new gold strike near Girdwood, with quartz running $1,400 a ton on assay, is contained in dispatches to Seattle from the northern territory.

The gold strike has started a rush to Girdwood district, where six-year-old Addie Reno discovered a vein of free gold, according to a dispatch from C. J. Lincke. The vein is on Pengum Creek, north of Girdwood. Andrew Miles, a prospector, struck a good vein between the hills, late, and the ledges are described as large and continuous.

The report of the oil area near Point Barrow is based on word from R. D. Adams, head of an oil prospecting party, which returned to Nome from Wainwright and Point Barrow.

"The oil seepages occur on two or three conspicuous hills of the barren and mountainous Cape Simpson," the dispatch says. "The largest seepage rises on a hill four miles southwest of the cape and more than a mile inland."

"Another smaller seepage was found on a hill 400 yards from the shore, approximately three miles northwest of Cape Simpson. The flow of oil down the hillside may be seen from the coast. The two main seepages are similar, the source being well up the hills. Both flow several hundred yards into lakes."

A Standard Oil party of prospectors which left Nome about the same time as the Adams party is now investigating in the same section.

POLICE MELODIES.

The Poles have remained singularly free from eastern influence. Their melodic music is sometimes rather limited, but their tunes are always wonderfully embellished and they often make use of difficult intervals which would seem to be more suitable for an instrument than for the voice. The effect of these songs is sad but full of interest and in hearing them it is easy to realize that Chopin was a thoroughly "national" composer.

BOOZE

"How is it Fred has more money than you? You both had an even start."

"Well, you see he invested his money in oil, and I spent mine for another kind of liquid."

Soviets Want Codfish.

Negotiations for the purchase of 20,000 tons of codfish by the Russian Soviet government have been opened between a Soviet government commissioner in London and the Newfoundland government. This would represent about one quarter of the year's catch. The Russian government has offered to pay from 10 to 20 per cent in cash and the balance in notes payable from three to five years hence.

Meteors Cause Fires?

France recently has suffered a number of severe forest fires and now the theory is advanced that they were caused by meteors. In the chateau district, where a thousand acres of forest were burned recently, huge chunks of hot metal have been dug up, and these are alleged to be fragments of the meteor that started the fire.

DOG EATS WIRE MUZZLES

Owner Can't Give Him Away, Either—He Always Comes Back He Tells Court.

New York.—George Lear of Brooklyn appeared in the Fifth Avenue court to answer a summons for allowing his dog to roam the street unmuzzled.

"Judge, as soon as I put a muzzle on him he eats it up," said the defendant.

"Do you mean to say he eats the wire ones, too?" asked the magistrate.

"Yes, your honor. I have tried all kinds," replied Lear.

"Have you tried one made of reinforced concrete?" queried the magistrate.

"If he ate his way through the concrete he would probably be too tired to tackle the steel."

Magistrate Gelsmar told Lear he would have to keep the dog muzzled or get rid of it.

"Judge, I have tried that, too. Several times I've tied him up and sent for the S. P. C. A., but somehow or other, by the time they arrived the dog was missing only to return after the dog catchers had left."

"One dollar fine," said the court. As Lear walked over to the clerk to pay his fine he remarked: "This is easy. I thought I was going to get life."

New Yeast Vitamon Tablets Round Out Face and Figure

With Firm, Healthy Flesh, Increase Energy and Beautify the Complexion—Easy and Economical to Take—Results Quick

This or two-down folks who want to quickly get some good, firm, solid flesh on their bones, fill out the hollows and sunken cheeks with strong, healthy tissues, and build up increased energy and vitality should try taking a little Mastin's VITAMON with their meals. Mastin's VITAMON is a tiny tablet containing highly concentrated yeast-vitamins as well as the two other still more important vitamins (Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C). It banishes pimples, boils and skin eruptions as if by magic, strengthens the nerves, builds up the body with firm flesh and tissues and often completely rejuvenates the whole system. Quick, gratifying results. No gas caused.

If you are thin, pale, haggard, drawn looking or lack energy and endurance take Mastin's VITAMON—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself each week and continue taking Mastin's VITAMON regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy.

IMPORTANT! While the remarkable health-building value of Mastin's VITAMON has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, nervous troubles, anemia, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, it should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having their weight increased to normal. Do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get Mastin's VITAMON tablets at all good druggists.

NAPOLEON TOMB NEGLECTED

First Resting Place at St. Helena Unmarked and in Disrepair.

Napoleon's original tomb on St. Helena has fallen into a sad state of disrepair since the body was removed in state to the Invalides in Paris eighty-two years ago, according to a letter received by Sir Leo Knowles, a former British cabinet minister, from a recent visitor to that remote island.

"I walked the five and one-half miles uphill to Longwood, Napoleon's old home," the writer says, "and inspected his much neglected tomb which is down in a deep corner of a deep valley—just a slab covered with dirty whitewash—no inscription whatever. The grass around was unkempt, and surrounded by a circle, about twenty paces in diameter, of tall trees, and there was nothing anywhere to tell a visitor when the body was removed or to whom the old tomb had belonged."

"What's become of Blithersby?"

"He's gone where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest."

Dead?

"No, indeed. He's doing time in a model penitentiary."

"Accounts kept in ancient Nineveh on clay tablets."

"Ah, the original loose-leaf ledger."

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

It is characteristic of the old folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully awe them, even to the most robust.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently looking back a quarter of a century, when I was myself in the little drug store I owned at Butler, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the various and catarrhs on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user, which was due to the fact that they were too strong enough in their action, namely, being on the trigger or small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestine, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the bowels would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Dr. Lewis' Compound, which I truly believe goes further than any other.

Not for Women Only To millions it is bringing whiter teeth

This new way of teeth-cleaning appeals to women. It brings them prettier teeth. But men also enjoy it, and children must use it to properly clean their teeth.

Millions now use it, largely by dental advice. The glistening teeth you see everywhere now show the results of its use.

Everyone needs it, as this simple test will show. See the results it brings in ten days and decide that for yourself.

You must fight film

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

The ordinary tooth paste does not effectively combat it. Your tooth brush has left much of it intact. And that clinging film may do a ceaseless damage.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles, local and internal.

Thus film causes most tooth troubles. And, despite the tooth brush, all those troubles have been constantly increasing. Some have become so common as to be alarming.

Now ways to combat it

Dental science has for years sought ways to combat that film. The ways have now been found. Able authorities have amply proved their efficiency. Leading dentists everywhere now advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in a scientific tooth paste. The name is Pepsodent. Its use is fast spreading the world over.

To let all know it quickly, a 10-Day Tube is being presented to anyone who asks. Thus thousands of new people daily are learning its delights.

Combines five effects

But Pepsodent does more than fight film. It fights the acid which is a great tooth destroyer.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is to digest the starch deposits which may otherwise remain and form acid.

The delightful results

One conspicuous effect is to beautify the teeth. Another is a feeling of cleanliness. Men who smoke will see great changes. It is film that absorbs tobacco stains.

But it is most essential to the children. Young teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. Dentists advise that children use Pepsodent daily from the time the first tooth appears. Under old methods, very few children escape some tooth destruction.

To all this test is important. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget to make it. Present it this week.

SIX MEXICANS KILLED IN SKIRMISH WITH FEDERALS

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 14.—Six members of a party of 40 Mexicans are dead as a result of a skirmish with a party of federal troops in San Antonio canyon, six miles south of Tijuana, Lower California, Sunday. In the skirmish, four of the invading party were killed. Two were captured by the federals and later executed. The report of the skirmish was made by Colonel A. Armenta, commander of the federal forces at Tijuana, to David Gershon, United States department of justice agent here.

Binghamton Italians Released.
Norwich, Nov. 14.—The three Binghamton Italians who were held in $3,000 bail each on a technical charge of bootlegging, and who were believed to have been implicated in the sending of two threatening letters to Antonio Donatello, the Birdland street grocer, in an effort to extort $500 from him, were discharged from custody by City Judge J. M. Forsyth yesterday. Motions for the release of the trio were made by their attorneys, Herbert J. Tillapaugh, of Binghamton, and William H. Sullivan, of Norwich. District Attorney Truesdell gave his assent.

The Supreme Gift

Selecting the usual Christmas gifts—jewelry, books, pictures, etc.—will not trouble you. It is the one distinctive gift that will make this year's total giving different from last year's and those of previous years—that is the task which puzzles you.

Here is a suggestion. Adopt it and the matter will be settled—settled richly and satisfactorily—and your Christmas shopping will have been made easy.

The usual gifts are seldom durable—a few weeks or a few months and their usefulness or their value is gone. Nevertheless we must continue to give them—Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without them. The thing to do is to add the supreme gift.

And you would not be alone in doing it. Thousands and thousands of husbands and fathers in recent years have given this supreme gift. It has become a Christmas custom, rapidly growing in observance as the years go by.

This distinctive gift—a document, handed to the wife on Christmas Day, under which she would receive a check for a stated amount each month of her life if you should be taken away. Christmas Day at home, guaranteed to her and your children as long as she lives—sure shelter for her and them—with the Christmas table and gifts—sure education for the children; freedom from burden and care; all provided by the husband and father, just as he is doing it now; the supreme gift of this year's Christmas Day! It would make her happy, would it not?—would be one more indisputable proof of your loving care for her? And what peace of mind you would have in knowing that her future was assured—that every month regularly, a month's provision—such as no one could take away—would come to her down to the latest month of the last year of her life.

This is the supreme gift. Can you find a better one to give distinction to this year's list of presents? Decide now and it will not take long to put the gift into your hands. "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early"—and it will be done with and done well!

IT'S NO GREAT PLEASURE

this changing tires in bad weather on a bad road. It takes all the fun out of motoring. A good deal of this trouble can be averted by not taking a chance with damaged tires. Have them vulcanized here and you will have sound perfect tires that will carry you over a thousand miles when they have been vulcanized.

CLARKE OPPOSES

MAKES TELLING SPEECH AGAINST FOUR MILLION ALASKAN BILL.

Thinks Uncle Sam Should Spend Money for Discharging Legal and Moral Obligations and Not for Railroad to Promote Schemes to Aid Others to Become Rich.

Congressman John D. Clarke of this district during a recent discussion of a bill to appropriate $4,000,000 to aid the construction of a railroad in Alaska, delivered the following speech as reported in the Congressional Record, which will interest all his constituents in this district.

Mr. Chairman, we live in an age of casuistry and sophistry, therefore in an aftermath of the war everybody is trying to lean upon the government, and this is one of those hating propensities. When men come to you and tell you of the great mineral resources of Alaska I may that I know something of the truth of their assertion. It is indeed rich in all the mineral resources, coal, copper, and gold, and if you will give capital a fair and free hand it needs no assistance from the government to go in there and develop those propensities, and when you men come about to me and tell me, as fellow members of congress, that you need $1,000,000 more to make up the "missing link" there, God help us. We have been hunting for the "missing link" since the evangel of civilization came on earth. Nobody has found it, whether in the Democratic or the Republican party. Sometimes we have had it in one guise and sometimes in another, and we have had promises always in the sophistry of Uncle Sam's putting up a dollar to put a thing "through" that never led us anywhere except to Socialism and Communism. You men today are wandering around and the great example of this principle are wanting where you are going to get it. But I will tell you this: Some of you who vote for these propositions that are Socialistic and Communistic to wring another dollar from Uncle Sam and add other dollars to our tax burdens are going to have a long vacation, and some of us farmer boys will come back and laugh at you. (Applause.)

"Announcement was made here yesterday of the marriage of Dr. Stuart B. Blakely, a member of the Binghamton City hospital medical staff; and Miss Miriam V. Brothers of New York city. The marriage was solemnized in Grace church, New York city, Saturday.

Miss Brothers was the first supervisor of the Maternity hospital here. She was in Binghamton only a few weeks, as soon after coming here to organize the work at the Maternity hospital, in 1918, she was called into war service. After the war, she became affiliated with a hospital in New York.

"Friends of Doctor Blakely say that he first became acquainted with Miss Brothers at the time she came to Binghamton. She was recommended for the position she came here to fill by one of the hospital nurses. Doctor Blakely went to New York to interview her, and engaged her for the supervisory position.

"The marriage was unexpected, even by intimate Binghamton friends of Doctor Blakely, who went to New York November 8, saying he expected to return in ten days, but giving no intimation of his approaching marriage."

Dr. Blakely is a son of Mrs. Mary S. Blakely and a brother of Mrs. R. E. Brigham, both of this city. He is a native of Otego, where the family for many years resided. Many friends in this city and in Otego will extend congratulations.

PLANNING TO FIGHT SNOW.

Binghamton Motor Club Investigating Methods of Cleaning Highways.

Motorists in this section will be interested in the announcement that the Binghamton Motor club is investigating the best methods of cleaning the snow from the macadam roads with the intention of making an effort to keep the highways open about that city for some distance.

Whether it will be possible to keep Belden hill open so that the roads down the valley can be kept usable by motorists will quite likely depend upon the winter that is before us. Such a winter as the last one it would probably be possible to do this, but with a winter like the one two years ago efforts would be futile.

Assurances are given, however, that an effort will be made to keep the highways open in this direction and if the snow is successful in keeping them closed to Sidney it is quite likely that others between Sidney and Harpursville will quite in the movement with some probability that the roads will be open for the entire distance between the two cities.

It is expected that the Oneonta club will give the cooperation of the ownership of the bus lines heretofore and such individual motorists renewing memberships for another year so that funds will be available, be able to do effective work about this city. All members renewing or uniting with the club between now and January 1 will be entitled to December 31, 1922.

George West Honored.

George West returned Sunday from New York city, where he witnessed on Saturday the annual football game between Dartmouth and the University of Pennsylvania. The game was played on the Polo grounds and was hard fought from start to finish, resulting in a 14 to 14 tie. George West, son of Mr. and Mrs. West, is a freshman at Dartmouth and witnessed the game with his father. A member of the Dartmouth Jazz band, he played that evening at a dance given at the Waldorf Astoria by the Dartmouth alumni of New York and vicinity. George was the only freshman who survived the stiff competition for the Jazz band and that he was picked to play on the band, which stands high among similar organizations in other colleges and universities, is a distinct compliment to his ability on the saxophone.

Rail's High Rating.

In a recent game between Alfred university and Hamilton college, one of our local boys, Richard G. Railt, a junior at the latter institution, substituted as right tackle for Hamilton in the fourth quarter. This is the first time he has ever played at the sport, but according to the last issue of the Hamilton Life, "Dick" played a good game and is pointed for the varsity. He will be remembered as a former basketball star of the Unadilla High school.—[Unadilla Times.]

WHAT SMILES AND TACT CAN DO.

Dallas, Texas, Dispatch Praises Courtesy of Miss Nell Mahon.

A pure long article on "Woman Who Just Found Permanent Place in Banking Business" notes with words of high praise Miss Nell Mahon, daughter of James Mahon, formerly a resident of this city but for several years a citizen of the Lone Star state. Miss Mahon had a good position with a leading financial institution of Dallas, and of her the Record says:

Miss Nell Mahon, the pass book teller at the Central State bank, holds the world's record for tact in the opinion of Vice President Kelly.

"A customer draws a check and it is dishonored," says Mr. Kelly. "He or she places the bank to the family circle, all the friends, even the seat made in the street car and enters our door with blood in the eye. Of course we begin apologizing at sight, but at the angry person is gently passed from one official to another, he or she it told, 'Window 3 will fix you up.' Now, that window framed the smiling face of Miss Mahon and her pleasant greeting and her evident desire to straighten matters out promptly dissolves the anger of the customer. Sometimes, the bank has made a mistake, but not often. More often the fact that a check was drawn and forgotten is gently conveyed to the customer and there is a sheepish acknowledgment of haste and error and a half-way apology which Miss Mahon accepts in the spirit in which it is given. She is one of our most valuable assets, and we believe that a woman is infinitely better fitted for such a place than a man."

Miss Mahon is a niece of Mrs. Sarah Norton and of Charles Mahon of this city.

Lady Grateful for Help Received

"For 15 years I suffered increasingly with stomach and liver trouble. Bloating with gas distressed me very much and caused serious heart distress. All medicine only relieved temporarily. I gave up hope of ever being cured. My druggist advised me one day to try Ma's Wonderful Remedy. I am feeling like a new woman since I can now eat anything with no ill results. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and bile autointoxication, such, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis, due to bile stasis or mucus refluxed, Druggists everywhere. advt.
